TO THE REVERED MEMORY OF
THOMAS WILLIAM COKE, EARL OF LEICESTER.
BORN MAY VITH MDCCLIV. DIED AT LONGFORD JUNE 30TH MDCCCXLII.
HIS PUBLIC CONDUCT AS REPRESENTATIVE, FOR 57 YEARS, OF THE COUNTY OF NORFOLK WAS CONSPICUOUS FOR ITS DECISION, DISINTERESTED ZEAL & UNINPEACHABLE INTEGRITY.
PREEMINENT NO LESS FOR HIS GENEROSITY AS A LANDLORD
THAN FOR HIS SKILL AND ENTERPRISE AS AN AGRICULTURIST,
HE SECURED THE DEEP AFFECTION OF AN ATTACHED & PROSPEROUS TENANTRY,
WHILE BY HIS EXERTION AND INFLUENCE HE EXTENDED IN A MOST REMARKABLE DEGREE
THE CULTIVATION & RURAL IMPROVEMENT OF THE COUNTRY.
IN HIS DOMESTIC RELATIONS HE WAS MOST AFFECTIONATE, KIND, & HOSPITABLE;
HIS CHARITY WAS MUNIFICENT WITHOUT OSTENTATION, & HIS PIETY SIMPLE AND UNAFFECTED, BUT WARM & SINCERE.
THIS MONUMENT IS ERECTED
BY PERSONS OF VARIOUS CLASSES & OPINIONS, CONNECTED WITH THIS COUNTY, AS SOME RECORD OF AN EXAMPLE SO EXCELLENT AND INSTRUCTIVE.

THE OFFERING OF AN ATTACHED HUSBAND.

BY SIGN MANUEL ON HIS MARRIAGE
IN THE YEAR MDCCXCVII
HE DIED ON THE XXIXTH OF MAY MDCCCXXXIV
IN THE LXIVTH OF HIS AGE.
POSSESSED OF A PECULIARLY ENERGETIC AND INVESTIGATING MIND
HE DEVOTED MUCH OF HIS TIME TO SCIENTIFIC AND PHILOSOPHICAL PURSUITS
HE HAD FLED TO CHRIST HIS SAVIOUR
FOR PARDON AND ACCEPTANCE WITH GOD,
AND HENCE HIS CHIEF AIM WAS TO DO GOOD TO BOTH THE BODIES AND
SOULS OF ALL AROUND HIM, AND TO LIVE TO THE GLORY OF GOD
THUS PREPARING DAILY FOR DEATH AND ETERNITY
HAVING RECEIVED A FATAL BLOW BY A TREE ROLLING ON HIM
IN THE ROAD NEAR WHAR HALL IN THIS PARISH WHICH STUNNED HIM FOR A TIME; BUT PERFECTLY RECOVERING HIS SENSES HE LIVED FOR ABOUT AN HOUR
AND THOUGH FULLY AWARE THAT HE COULD NOT LONG SURVIVE
HE REPEATEDLY EXPRESSED HIS PERFECT CONFIDENCE IN HIS SAVIOUR
AND HIS ENTIRE RESIGNATION TO THE WILL OF GOD
CALMLY EXHORTING THOSE AROUND HIM TO SEEK PARDON THROUGH THE SAME BLESSED REDEEMER: EXPRESSING THE INWARD CONSOLATION WHICH HE DERIVED FROM DEPENDENCE ON HIM,
AND HIS STEDFAST TRUST THAT THE LORD JESUS CHRIST
WOULD PRESENT HIM WITHOUT SPOT OR BLEMISH
BEFORE THE LORD HIS GOD.

Letters of Cæsar Thomas Gooch.

Windsor 8 June 1752.

My Dear,

I was a little disordered with a sore throat last Sunday, so did not set out upon my Country Ramble 'till Yesterday Morning. I have seen Richmond, Hampton Court, & Windsor Castle, and am got to my Quarters at the last Place, and as I never spend my Time out of your Company so agreeably as when I am Writing to You, I will this Evening throw my Memorandums in my Journey into a short Journal and Dedicate them to my Dear Girl. At Richmond w^{ch} is about 8 Miles from London I called upon an Acquaintance, and was Conducted by him to that part of y^e Town which is Called Richmond Hill; Where in one View you see over a very Wide Valley (not less than 30 Miles in Circumference) more Fine Seats & Gardens, than are to be Seen from any other Single Spot of Ground in England, The Thames holding its Serpentine Course below for many miles full in your View. From this beautiful prospect I went into Richmond Gardens Where Merlins Cave, The Hermits Cell, & the Dairy House, all made by Queen Caroline, are very well worth Seeing. In the Cave is the Queens Library, & figures in Wax Work of Merlin in his Conjurers Dress, with his Secretary, Prophetess, Queen Eliz: Her Nurse & an Amazonion Queen and at y^e Dairy y^e Milk is in Marble & China Trays &c. and there from 14 Cows. They every Day make little butter Cakes to Supply y^e Royal family, and the Simplicity & Coolness of these 3 Places are very Entertaining. The Gardens are laid out in a fine Tast and Contain 547 acres, and in one part of them is a Nursery for Pheasants, where by Gathering up the Eggs from Pheasants Nests they hatch under Common Hens full 1500 every year. I believe I Saw 20 broods of 12 & 14 in a brood and from one Side of y^e Gardens You have a fine View of London, w^{ch} Standing along Side of the Thames, & being Seen from hence end ways, Tis Inconceivable into how Small a Compass the City is thrown. Richmond lies on y^e South or Surry side of y^e Thames, and Hampton Court on the North side, and y^e Lodge or Palace at Richmond being now a very Inconsiderable building, I ferryed over y^e River and after a three Miles ride Came to Hampton Court. The Gardens there are Spacious with ever Greens & Statues & fine Walks & Terras's by y^e Thames Side but not very remarkable. The Palace however makes you amends, being a fine beautiful regular old building Consisting of three Courts wth Grand Rooms, furnished with good Tapistry & very Valuable Pictures and Ceiling Pieces by y^e best Masters, amongst which y^e Cartoons (being Seven Scripture Pieces of y^e Acts of y^e Apostles by Raphael Urban) are y^e most Distinguished; Many others however Cannot be too much admired, amongst which are The Ceiling Pieces by Verrio and S^r Ja^s Thornhill, K: Cha^s y^e 1st by Vandike, 9 Beauties of King Williams Court by S^r Godfrey Kneller, and many Pieces by Vandike, Corregio & other great Masters. I should have told you that in my Way from Hampton Court I rid over y^e Grotto at Twickenham made by y^e late Celebrated M^r Pope, thro' which he went from his house to his Gardens which are on different Sides of y^e Road.

I took a bed at Hampton, and Got to Windsor by Dinner and have been greatly delighted with y^e Park, The vast, Extensive View from the Terras, & the Paintings, which are here without Number, and almost all by the best Masters. We were shewn 23 Rooms all furnished with Pictures, many of which are by Michael Angelo, Verrio, Titian, Correggio and other great Painters whose Names I forget, and y^e Ceiling Pieces exceed those I Saw at Hampton Court. In one Room you See 14 Beauties at full length of K: Cha^s y^e 2^{ds} Court, by Sr Peter Lilly And in another an Inimitable picture of the Heads of two Misers, The one Selling and the other Paying money for a fine Jewell, w^{ch} they tell you was drawn by a Blacksmith, who falling in Love with a Painters Daughter, Travelled into Italy, where he Commenced an Eminent Painter & by Drawing these two Heads, so Charmed the old Painter that he freely bestowed his s^d daughter upon him. These Paintings I think Cannot be Exceeded, I mean some of the above and a Dutch family, a Magdalene at Prayers by Candlelight and Several by Titian & Michael Angelo. and now my Jewell I finish my Tour, and after Drinking your health and y^e healths of all friends at Wheatacre, I shall Slip to bed, and set out for London in y^e Morning.

London Tuesday Even:

I spent this Morning in Reviewing the Paintings at Windsor Castle, and having time upon my hands staid there to Dine, and after the Sun was a little declined set out for London, where I am arived at Nine, and as this outside must Serve as a Cover (not having a frank) I must take my Leave of you, desiring you to make my Compliments acceptable to all friends at Wheatacre, whom I hope to See at Diss at my return, w^{ch} I Intend shall be on friday.

I am My Dear Jewell Yours,

with the Warmest Affection,

B: John Gooch

London 24 Aug^t 1754.

My Dear Life,

My Reluctance to part with You and our agreeable Company at Euston threw me into y^e Evening immediately, for it was dark before I got Ten Miles, and y^e bad roads between Ixworth and Bradfield Manger (added to our walking at Euston) seem'd to Tire my Young Companion, so We took up at Bradfield Manger, but y^e next Day we stretch'd 54 miles to Harestreet (where we fell in wth M^r Harrison) and got to London to Day at Ten. We found M^{rs} Pryor and Kitty & Cousins Kitty Gooch and Miss Pryor very happy & merry and after having walked with Jemmy to Lombard Street, Holborn, beyond Russell Street towards Hide Park, Thence to J: Pecks M^{rs} Gile's M^r Shipman's and Billy Miller's a Second Time (In short a walk of 8 Miles) we are got back to Forestreet and have already drank all Your healths, and we seem neither of us to be tired. So we begin to think light of our Cornish Journey.

My Dear Polly. I have been with M^r Jackson y^e Oval Turner that M^r Vander Hagan recommended, & have bespook y^e Frames & Glasses that you desired Gilt but you Can't have y^m 'till Thursday come se'night. You will have some in black Ivory which Can't be Gilt, but they are y^e Neatest. The Inclosed is y^e Size of y^e Locket Pictures, & you may draw on Ivory of that Size. The Ivory is to be Cut with Scissars with y^e grain of the Ivory, that is always Cut downwards, from y^e Sides to y^e Ends. I Saw y^e Pictures (Engravings of Stranges) of Cleopatra and Mary Magdalene, but they are 4^s apiece, & in Attitudes that Can't be used in Portrait Painting. So I did not buy them. I have equipped Jemmy wth Water Colours and Pencils, and he is to Work very hard when he Comes into Cornwall. I Inclose You some Small Pencils and wish You good success wth Lady Mary's Picture.

I find my Dear Betsy I Can't Leave London till Monday Morning Jemmy and I are so unprepared for setting out to Morrow, that we must Enjoy our Selves here to morrow, and begin the Week with a Trip towards y^e West. You will be So Good as to direct your Letters to me at Newlyn near Penzance in Cornwall, and then to seal them up and put y^m into a Cover directed to Rob^t Jones Esq^r in Clements Lane Lombard Street and I must Insist that You or Polly Write to me after next friday for 3 Posts together, and then I shall have y^e pleasure of hearing from You every Post while I Guess I shall be there. I am my Dear Life with blessing to my Children and Compliments to my Friends, & kind Love from all here

Your most Affectionate

Husband,

B: Gooch

Stockbridge 27 Aug^t 1754.

My Dear Betsy,

If you think you shan't be tired with y^e Account of your Rambling Husband's Life since my Saturday's Letter, I will take it up where I then left off, and Spend part of this Evening in Silent Chit Chat with my Dear Girl. 'Jemmy and I were too much fatigued with our Saturday's Walk, not to Consent very readily to Stay Sunday in Town. The Morning I spent in going to a good many places, and in the afternoon I Carried M^{rs} Pryor Miss Pryor Kitty and Doct^r Lewis by Water to Chelsea Hospital, which is delightfully Situated two or three Miles above Westminster Bridge by y^e Thames, and where M^r & M^{rs} Kitchen entertained us at Tea very friendly.

Monday Morning I was forced to Wait before I could get to my horses at y^e End of y^e Stones by Hyde Park Corner. So that we got only to Bagshot 27 Miles from London before Evening Came upon us.

In passing thro' Brentford Hounslow Betfound Staines Egham and so to Bagshot, nothing remarkable occurred to my Little fellow Traveller, except y^e Plenty of Gibbets upon Hounslow Heath, and the fine Appearance of the River Thames at Staines where we Cross over it on a bridge that Divides Middlesex and Surrey. We Lay well at Bagshot, and got to Basingstoke in Hampshire by Breakfast, indeed as it is twenty miles it was a late one, past eleven of the Clock ; I should have told You that before we got to the Town of Bagshot we had great Pleasure, for within a Mile or a little more of Egham at Your Entrance upon Bagshot Heath are most of y^e fine Works that y^e Duke of Cumberland has made on y^e Edge of Windsor Forest, which adjoins to y^e Heath ; and close by y^e Road, you see the Obelisk, the Cascade, Chinese Bridge, Grand Serpentine River, Chinese Gally, and Belvidera or Castle so much talked of, with an Infinite number of Plantations of Yews and Scotch Firs, many miles Wide upon the most Barren & Disagreeable Spot of Ground in England, every part of Thetford and Newmarket Heaths is a Garden to this Dreary Wast where the Eye is tired with a boundless view of Russet Ground, Covered with nothing but Ling, without even so many sheep as a Norfolk Farmer has in one flock, & those sad looking half Starved Creatures. I was delighted to See that Spot of Ground remarkable in History for nothing but it's barrenness, and the Highway frolicks of St John Falstaffe and his Madcap Companion Prince Henry, in a fair Way to be Celebrated for Beauty by the fine Taste of the Duke of Cumberland. For Wonderful is the Ornament his Highness has already given to a great Part of this Desert. No manner of Entertainment occurred to us to Day in our Ride to Basingstoke, nor from thence to this Place, which is a little Sorry Thoroughfare Corporation on the Edge of Hampshire. For the whole Country for near 40 Miles is about one third Sandy barren heath, and the other two thirds heavy Wild Downs, Something Mountainous, but without a Bush or a Tree except in y^e Valleys, and there (except here and there where remains a little of y^e old forests), the Trees are thin and houses more Scarce than Churches in Suffolk ; In short this part of Hampshire is the Worst Country I was ever in before But I am told Salisbury will make me amends to Morrow, where I shall be at Breakfast. Jemmy is very happy here with Trout and Crawfish, upon both which we have been feasting. The Inhabitants are Supplied with Vast Quantities of them by a fine Rapid River that Runs thro' this Town by Different Cuts, and Crosses the road in Seven Different Places. And Jemmy is now Drawing some houses here (w^{ch} are strangely built in General) and a Trout that we have been just now eating. He holds out as well if not better than I, and is greatly delighted with the hourly Increase of the Size of the Hills before us.

I Intended to have sent by M^r Lewis the Lottery Tickets, but I was too late at my return from Chelsea to Write by him. Out of N^o 32,518, 32,530 and 32,535 let Polly Choose one, and Half of it shall be her Property and the other half and y^e two others are yours. I will now My Dear Jewell take my Leave, and am With Jemmy's Duty and Love And my blessing to my Children and hearty respects to my Friends,

Your ever affectionate Husband,

B. Short Goosh

P.S. We have been puzzled to Get 40 Miles to Day, from y^e badness of y^e Roads over these heavy Downs for y^e last 20 Miles, and as we are told of very high hills forward, I shall be hardly at Penzance in less than 8 Days.

Betsy Coleman is included when we send our Love to our Diss Friends, and her and Dolly's healths are not Omitted when we Toast those we Love in Norfolk.

Dorchester 29th Aug^t 1754.

My Dear Life,

I Intend every other Day to give my self the Pleasure of Writing to my Dear Girl and altho' she will be some time before she receives my first two or three Letters, by my removing every post to near 80 Miles further Distance, yet in a little time I think they will fall into such a Succession that she will hear from her old Lover every Post. My last was of the 27th from Stockbridge in Hampshire; from which place we set out at Seven yesterday Morning and got to y^e City of Salisbury in Wiltshire by Ten (15 Miles), where after breakfast we walked about and Viewed the Streets, which by running in Paralel Lines and Crossing each other in the same manner (in right Angles) and leaving out a good market place, make it y^e best Laid out Town I ever saw. The Streets indeed are too Narrow and y^e buildings ordinary, but kept very clean by brooks running in narrow channels boarded on y^e sides thro' every Street, for three Rivers meet here or very near and give a great Plenty of Water, as indeed is the Case with every great and small Town in this part of y^e Kingdom for both y^e one and the other are built in Valleys. We next Viewed y^e Cathedral which is y^e finest Country Building I ever Saw, and has y^e Tallest Spire That and the Steeple measuring 410 feet. In the Cathedral we fell into Chat with three Ladies and three Gentlemen from Gloucestershire, who were in y^e afternoon going to See Lord Pembroke's House at Wilton 3 Miles from Salisbury, and we agreed to bear them Company. This Seat was built a great many years ago under y^e Direction of Inigo Jones and Hans Holbien the two greatest Architects of y^e last Century, and was furnished with Curiosities by the Grandfather of y^e present Earl (who is a Young Gentleman upon his Travels). He was a Great Antiquary and the Collections of Cardinal Mazarine Cardinal Richlieu and L^d Arundel being disposed of in his Time he by buying everything of great Value, made such a Collection as is astonishing. For every Room of y^e house is not only full upon the Walls with y^e best Paintings, but the floors are half Covered with Statues, Busts and other Antiquities. They are not to be Described in a Letter; a Gentleman Came lately from Rome only to See them, and Painters and Virtuosi Come to Salisbury and Stay Several Weeks and go every Day to Wilton. It is much the best Collection in England, perhaps in the World, and had I Time to Spare I would ride 200 Miles to see such another Collection. This Amusement Cost me y^e remainder of Yesterday, and this Morning we set out and reached Blandford in Dorsetshire by Dinner and got to Dorchester y^e County Town in y^e Evening. Our ride was about 40 Miles, which is as far as we Can go in a Day, for altho' y^e hills are far short of what we have to Go over, yet y^e Country here is very uneven, and few hills less than half a Mile in their Ascent. We Crossed a Forest or Chase in y^e Morning belonging to y^e Earl of Pembroke, with great Plenty of Deer in all parts of it, that entertained Jemmy very highly, but he begins to Want Spirits in an Evening, and goes to bed more Tired than his Fellow Traveller. The Country is still chiefly Down and Valley, but as we approach the Sea it mends in its Soil and Cultivation.

Blandford is a little Town new built since the fire, twenty three years ago, and this Town of Dorchester a very ordinary one. In y^e Morning we set forward to Exeter at about 53 Miles Distance, and expect to get thither by Saturday Noon, and there I doubt I must give my Companion half a Day's rest.

M^r Meadows offered to assist M^r Taylor in any business in which he may want help and if he should, desire him to apply to M^r Meadows.

I am my Dear Jewell with blessing Duty Love and Service from my self and Jemmy to yo^rself and all Yours and our friends

Your most affectionate Husband,

C. Thos Goode

P.S. The Pad Carries me as well as a horse of 20 Guineas would, for y^e hills shorten y^e steps of y^e horses here and make most of them Pacers and Jemmy's Hobby is Cut out for this Country by his Sureness of foot.

Exeter in Devonshire,

1 Sept^r 1754.

My last Letter to my Dearest was from Dorchester, the County Town of Hampshire, where we Lay Thursday Night, and from whence we had a tolerable pleasant ride to Bridport (15 Miles) Friday Morning, & in our Journey from very high Downs, had a fine Sea Prospect, and Views of New Forest in Hampshire, and of y^e Isle of Wight (at 30 Miles Distance). But within the last five Miles, we went down into Bridport (a small Shabby Town [in Dorsetshire] remarkable only for Hemp and flax, which they Grow and Spin and make into Cables and Ropes and Sail Cloths) a hill 4 Miles in y^e Descent, and broken and bad in some parts, but the Trouble we had here was only an Introduction to what we were to Go through in y^e afternoon and Evening, for we had from Bridport to Honiton in this County to ride 21 Miles (I dare Say) the Worst in England. For all this Way you have not in the whole one Mile of Level Ground to travel over, but within a very few Yards, as soon as you have Descended one hill you begin to Ascend another, and one was frightfully steep for a Mile and half together, with Ten Thousand Stones (many as big as my head) in the road, So that our horses hardly ever touch'd y^e Ground or Solid Rock, and we were every Minute in Danger, as we Led them, of their falling upon us. This hill and 7 or 8 others, all a Mile, and many a Mile and half, and two Miles high, and full of Loose Stones, very near Demolished Me and my Companion and our two horses, We were Dispirited, and our horses foot sore, for y^e whole Country for these 21 or 25 Miles is all rock, with very little herbage or Covering upon it, and y^e roads by length of Time and the perpetual Jar of Wheels are full of broken pieces of y^e rocks. In this Wretched Country they have put up however 4 Turnpikes and have begun with near 100 Men to mend these roads, but they expect to be twenty Years doing it. At Honiton we got Some roasted Pidgeons for Supper. Took y^e best Care we Could of our horses, and being Encouraged by y^e Chat of my Landlord to hope that y^e Worst was past, We Set out at Nine Yesterday, and got hither by one, and Yet it is but 15 Miles. The roads however and Hills were Smoother and we had a little sand. Here we Lay by yesterday after noon to rest our horses, and amused our selves at the Coffee House, and in Viewing y^e Cathedral and the River and Walks about the City, which is upon y^e whole very well, altho' without any thing very engaging, 'tis populous, by standing upon a large River, within 3 Miles of y^e Sea, and by a great Trade Carried on in Weaving Stockings, Serges, Duroys, flannels, &c. At Noon to Day we are going to Set out for Oakhampton, 22 Miles, and expect to Breakfast to Morrow at Launceston in Cornwall 18 Miles further, from whence to Morrow afternoon or Tuesday Morning I shall Get to Mr Nance's, when I shall be still 80 Miles short of Penzance. Near, or at the greatest Distance I shall ever be, My Dear Life

Your most affectionate Husband,

B: Thos Goode

My blessing attends my Children and my humble service my friends. Jemmy sends his Duty & kind Love. These two days he has held out rather better than his horse.

Exeter Sunday 1 Sept^r 1754.

Honoured Sir,

My last Letter was from Salisbury in Wiltshire from which City I set out on Thursday the 29th ult: reach'd Blandford in Dorsetshire by Noon, and Dorchester in y^e Evening. Within a few Miles of Salisbury we went over Cranborn Chase belonging to y^e Earl of Pembroke very full of large fallow Deer, we had a grand white house of M^r Doddington's a little after, near us, on our right, and we found Blandford a neat new built Town, and the Country all y^e way mended upon us, by being better Cultivated than Hampshire and by having rich Downs. Dorchester for y^e County Town I thought but an ordinary one. Here we met with the Sherborn and Evil Journals, & a new one just published at Salisb^y. From Dorchester on Friday we got to Bridport in y^e same County by Noon, where a great deal of Hemp and flax is produced and Spun and made into Ropes Cables and Sail Cloths, and had a fine View from a high Down over great and Little Look (two Villages that Stand in a low Woodland) of the Sea, of New Forest in Hampshire and y^e Isle of Wight.

We Descended into Bridport from a Hill broken and bad four Miles high, and in the afternoon through Charmouth and Axminster in Devonshire got to Honiton in that County pretty late in the Evening, and Sadly tired and Discouraged, for the Country here for 21 Miles from Bridport to Honiton is nothing but Hills. You don't ride one Mile out of the 21 on y^e Level, but in general within five hundred yards after you are down one hill you begin to Climb another and the roads in general are very full of Loose Stones of various and Some of very large Size, & in Descending a steep Hill next Charmouth our horses walked upon Loose Stones for a mile & an half without hardly ever touching y^e ground, and I expected them to fall upon us as we Led them down. This was the worst hill we met with, but it afterwards Cost us three hours and an half to get from Axminster to Honiton, which is but 9 Miles. They have put up four Turnpikes within 22 Miles and are Going to mend these roads by Widening them (as you have done at Windale hills) and by Laying a broad road highest in y^e Middle, with Stones at bottom, and Sand & such Soil as they Can get at y^e Top which as the Country is almost all rock, is not Easy to Come at.

Where they have made this sort of road, it is very agreeable Travelling, but as it is to extend Thirty four Miles, it will be 20 years before it will be all Done. At Honiton Jemmy and I and our two horses were in Sad low Spirits; We Travelled too far and too late for such a Country, and a little rest Seemed to be absolutely necessary, So we rid very slowly yesterday hither, and gave our horses rest till this Morning, when towards Noon to set out for Ockampton 22 Miles and to get from thence to Launceston 18 Miles to Morrow, and that Evening or the next Morning to M^r Nance's, and we have the Comfort to be assured that we have no hill so bad as Charmouth hill between this and the Lands end. We found Honiton a very handsome Town, and this City pleasant in Several parts of it, and extremely populous. I am Sir, with my own and Jemmy's Duty and Kind Love to Yourself My Mother and Jenny

Your ever Dutiful Nephew,

B: Gooch

By being in y^e Night I Lost y^e View just before You Come to Honiton.

Launceston 3^d September 1754.

My Dear Life,

I have but a few Minutes by y^e Western Post being going forwards to Exeter to Inform You that I Lay last Night at Lyfton (for I Lay by all Sunday at Exeter) which is near 40 Miles, and got hither at Ten this Morning, where I found M^{rs} Nance and M^{rs} Blighe just recovered from Colds. They Seemed both pleased to See Me and my Companion, and have been Walking about y^e Town with us, where y^e Ruins of an old Castle give a very pleasant prospect over y^e Neighbouring Country.

From Exeter thus far into Cornwall I have had a pleasant Journey, over fine Downs, and hills now not to be Complained of for y^e roads are more mended here than in Dorsetshire, and if y^e Hills be but firm and whole We don't mind their heighth. I Intended to have taken a bed with M^r Nance at Trengoff (16 Miles off) but have been forced to Consent to Lodge here to Night, and to Morrow I must of course spend with M^r Nance, shall get to Redruth 40 Miles on Thursday and Expect to Dine at Penzance on Friday, by which Days post My Jewell shall again hear from me. M^{rs} Nance is going to London and from thence by Michaelmass Season intends to be at Bath, and as Travelling and Change of Air is advised I have half persuaded her to Come into Norfolk next Summer. My Dear Life I hope believes that I am obliged to Write thus short a Letter (The post Waiting being in general a Lame excuse) and that I am with more fondness than can be Expressed her most

Affectionate Husband,

B: Gooch

My Blessing & Love to all of You and Jemmy's Duty.

M^{rs} Nance sends her Complim^{ts} & her blessing to Dolly and M^{rs} Bligh her kind Love.

Addressed: "To M^{rs} Gooch at Diss in Norfolk. By Ipswich bag."

Time to Redruth within 20 Miles of Mounts Bay and by Two on Saturday (yesterday) to Penzance and Newlyn, and excepting in Crossing to M^r Nances, we have had no hills or roads to Complain of. After Writing to my Uncle and my Dearest, I ordered Linnen to be aired for me at Newlyn, and Came hither last Night to see M^r Veale, who with M^{rs} Veale received us very Civilly, and here I am Writing to my Dear Jewell, am to Stay this Evening, and enter upon business to morrow morning at Newlyn. I need not tell my Dear Wife how Constantly I have given my self y^e pleasure of writing to her when ever I fell in with Post Towns, but the arival of my Letters, as I was Continually removing farther off, must every Post be retarded a Day or Two, a Circumstance they will not now be attended with.

I had great Pleasure in reading your kind Letter of yesterday Se'night, and am very happy in knowing that You and my Children and little Dolly were then all Well, and I am much pleased that Polly is likely to Succeed in Drawing Lady Mary's Picture. I have often great pleasure in Looking upon that of my Charmer, which M^r & M^{rs} Veale think very like. This Letter will go away to Morrow afternoon, and on Wednesday I will again Write to my Angel and endeavour to make some guess at my Stay here, which I will begin to Shorten all I Can, and to keep as Clear as is in my Power of Engagements in Visiting, which M^r Veale is so obliging as to be every Minute Contriving, and I am Sadly embarrassed already, for M^r Carlyon by Letter Insists on my Going home by St Just, on y^e South side of Cornwall, and he and M^{rs} Carlyon are Coming here to engage me, and I must Call on M^r Nance as I go back, who Lives in y^e middle of y^e County, and on M^{rs} Nance, who lives on y^e North side, and this round about Way I foresee will Cost me 50 Miles riding out of my right road, and will delay my happiness of meeting my Dearest. That is a Delight at so great a Distance that I am afraid to think upon it, and if I Could I really would banish my Dear Girl now and then for a Day or two from my fond Mind, but to do that for one hour is not y^e Power of My Dear Betsy.

Your excessively fond and most

affectionate husband,

B. Thot Goodell

P.S. All here Join with me in Blessing, Duty & kind Love for You and yours.

I have Constantly every other Day almost Wrote to my Uncle from London and upon the road.

I shall Write from hence to my Brother of whose Recovery of y^e Disorder in his Leg I am glad to hear. I have had an Account of him from Wheatacre and my Cousin Kitty.

I could not pack up any quantity of my Cousin Kitty's Drops, but have fallen in with some here. Mrs Veale had a pint by her untouched.

Dated "Travater 8th Sept^r 1754."

Newlyn 12th Sept^r 1754.

Honoured Sir!

I shall from time to time in my Letters Continue an Account in what manner I spend my time until I have the pleasure of Seeing You. My last Letter informed you that I was going to Mr Veale's Saturday Evening where I staid 'till Monday Morning (it rained so hard all Sunday that none of the family could go to Church which is a Mile and half off) and about Ten of y^e Clock I took Possession of your house at Newlyn. Tho: Paul and Mrs Gwavas had taken y^e best care they could of y^e beds, but yet by Lying by, out of Use so long, the feathers in this moist Air had Contracted such a Dampness, that I found my self moist in your bed in the night, and rose and Dressed myself and finding Jemmy's bed in y^e Same State, I raised him, and we Lay for the rest of y^e night in our Cloaths, and borrowed the next Day a bed of Tho: Paul, where Jemmy and I Lie together in your Chamber. As Goods take so much Damage by lying by for 2 or 3 Years, I think it would be better for You to Sell all here, but the two bureaus in the Balcony Chamber, 2 round Tables, 8 or 10 Chairs, Tea Kettle and a few odd things, and Lodge at Penzance or one of y^e best Taverns here, but that you will Consider of at your Leisure. I will Decline selling any goods 'till You have further Determined about them, and if You keep y^e beds, you may order to have y^e feathers taken out and picked, w^{ch} is absolutely necessary. I spent Monday afternoon in Viewing y^e Place here and your Upper and Lower Cellars and y^e middle Cellar hired of Mr Arundel, and Tuesday I went to Mousehole and Looked over your Cellar there and the new one hired of Oliver Lere.

Every thing Seems well Conducted, and as most of y^e Summer fish are still in bulk I can pretty well Judge of the room that is Wanted, when a Thousand hogsheads may happen to be in hand, and I think You have no more room than You may Want. Yesterday I spent a little time with Mr Pennick Mr Veale (who Called on Me) and Mr Vigurs, & in the afternoon, Jemmy & I and Tho: Paul & old Tho: Row and Tonkin an old Fishermen, went in a large Boat a little off Mousehole to Catch hookfish. The bay with a South West Wind, was a little too rough for our Sport, but Jemmy Catch'd a Conger Eel of 6 or 7 Pounds, and a large Pullock, and we all Caught Mackerel, Skads', Chads' and small Congers, and Jemmy was happy beyond Description, old Pierce was with us an hour, and he and the old Fisherman and Tom Row (your old Cellar Man) are as much pleased with Jemmy as he is with them. Pierce & Tom Row Say, he shall run down y^e Ladder at the Pier and pull a Line with any Lad in Newlyn, and that is the greatest thing they can Say of him. I am to See

Tregunno and Marrack to Day, and to Morrow I go to Gwavas, and by Saturday's Post You shall have a general State of Your affairs here. I have had the favour of your Letter of the 5th and am Sir

With My Duty to my Mother and my blessing to Jenny and Jemmy's Duty and kind Love and y^e Duty of all your Serv^{ts} here

Your most affectionate and

Obedient Nephew,

B: John Gooch

The Sayn boats are every Night on y^e Look out, but no Pilchards to Speak of have been this Week Caught.

I have had M^{rs} Gwavas & M^r Tilly here and they send their humble service. M^{rs} Gwavas Washes my Linnen.

Newlyn 14th Sept^r 1754.

My Dear Betsy,

My last Letter on Wednesday was wrote in such hast, that I had hardly time to tell You how much I want you, I will do it now, and Continue my Journal, Wednesday as well as the two preceeding Days and the Thursday were Spent in Examining into my Uncle's affairs here, and at Moushole, & in y^e little Trip upon the Bay, and Yesterday I and my Uncle's Steward went to Gwavas in Sithney, a Manor where my Uncle has two little Farms, and there (it being Eleven Miles off) we Spent y^e whole Day, our business was to mark near a Hundred Elms, Ashes & Sycamores (the most Common Wood there) to be Cut down and Sold. We left Jemmy drawing a Cuckoe Fish and a Dog fish, after which he was at three in y^e afternoon to be attended by his two favourite Fishermen and two more hands to fish with hooks two or three Leagues down y^e Bay, at Nine they returned with Lings, Chads, Hakes, Whiting Pullocks and Breams enough to feast y^e whole Town of Diss for one Day, and the Delight with which he represented the Length of Line with which he fished, and the Labour with which he and his Brother Fishermen drew up a large Hake, at 15 and 20 fathom, is not to be Described. In this Bay (which is like y^e Ocean) Ten or Twelve sorts of Fish are as plentiful as Roach in our Meer. The Turbot is dear, about half or one third of the Price at London. But Dorees, Whiting, Pullocks, Tubs and Lings very Cheap, and the Fish most Common not a farthing a pound.

The Hamlets of Newlyn and Mousehole within the Parish of Paul lie on y^e South West Side of the Bay, and are little more than two Single Lines of houses built within 12 or 15 feet of a Cliff more than 20 feet high, on y^e Edge of which is no Wall or rail, So that nothing can be more dangerous than to Walk Twenty yards in this narrow Street in y^e Dark. The Inhabitants are near 2000, and every one (Except 2 or 3 Barbers, Shoemakers and Taylors) maintained by Fishing, and in this Season of their Curing the Pilchards, I guess it is the most Stinking place in y^e whole world. There is no one in y^e Parish that knows anything off the Water, except M^r Pennick y^e Vicar, who has Visited me twice, he is a Single middle-aged Man, keeps house with a Sister, and I am to Go to Paul Church in y^e Morning, and dine with him, and if I make y^e Conclusion that I expect with Cap^t Paul this afternoon I Intend to bid adieu to Newlyn to Morrow Evening, and Stay a Day or two at M^r Veale's where M^r and M^{rs} Carlyon are expected this day, and then Set out for Norfolk. But I must Call on M^r and M^{rs} Nance, who live sadly wide, and it will be a long Time before I shall See my Dearest, a Reflection that makes me very unhappy, for my absence from my Charmer I fear is hardly more than half over, and very mortifying is the Thought that I have three Weeks still to Live without Clasp^{ing} my Sweet Girl in my Arms. I Thank You for your kind Letter of the 4th which I received on Thursday, and hope my Dear Jewell have Continued writing to Me two posts more, if she has not I must blame my Self, for desiring only three Letters to Newlyn. I shall Continue Writing to my Jewel every second or third Day, and have to beg of her to Write me one Letter this Day Senight directed to me at Bath, under M^r Jones's Cover, and another Letter the Wednesday following directed to M^{rs} Pryors w^{thout} a Cover and almost every Post My Dear Life shall hear from her most

Affectionate Husband,

B: John Goodall

My blessing to all my Children & little Dolly and Complim^{ts} to all my Friends.

Jemmy presents his Duty and kind Love.

I Congratulate Polly upon her Success in drawing Lady Mary, and I hope the Miss Morris's and all of You had a great deal of Pleasure at Eye Assembly on Monday.

Jemmy draws & Colours the Fish here very well, but he won't be able to draw more than 7 or 8.

Newlyn Wedn: 18 Sept^r 1754.

My Dear Betsy,

My last Letter Informed You of my proposing to Leave this Place on Sunday, I Did do so that Evening, after Dining with Mr Penneck y^e Clergyman here, and going to Paul Church forenoon and afternoon. We got to Trevalaer abo^t 3 Miles by Sunset, and Dined with Mr Veale on Monday, and spent y^e whole Day there, with Mr Geo: Veale (my Bro^r Attorney) and two other Gentlemen, and Yesterday Mr Veale & Mr Penneck and Jemmy and I went to the Lands End, Ten Miles from Penzance, Where we Saw Several odd Groupe's of Rocks, and a Rocky Cliff of great heighth, every body that Comes here go out of Curiosity to y^e very End of the Island, but it is hardly worth doing, for to See Several Antiquities and Views our ride was not less than 30 Miles. We got to Doctor Borlace's (within 3 Miles of Mr Veales) to Dinner, where we met Mr Veale and Mr Geo: Veale and his Wife (one of the Doctor's Daughters) and were entertained in a very genteel manner. The house and Gardens are y^e best in these parts, and the Doctor (who is a Clergyman and a Justice of y^e peace) is the most agreable Man I have Seen in Cornwall. The Doctor's Father Dined with us, who is a fine Looking old Gentleman in his 80th Year.

In the Evening we found Mr Carlyon at Trevalaer, who is Come to Shew me the Way to Saint Just, I am Sorry M^{rs} Carlyon did not Come with him, as I then would have Excused myself going to St Just. I ride to Newlyn on Mornings and to Trevalaer to Dinner & shall finish and pack up every thing at Newlyn to Morrow and Set out with Mr Carlyon friday morning for St Just, where I Intend to Spend Saturday and Sunday and to Get to Mr Nance's on monday, to Launceston on Tuesday, and then hasten to Bath as fast as possible. Bath is hardly any thing out of my Way, I will Spend there about Two Days (which will be necessary to our horses) and will from thence hasten to y^e Arms of my Charmer with all the Expedition in my Power. 'Tis Impossible to Tell You my Dear Life, how much I want you, and how unhappy I am and shall be 'till I meet Your Letter at Bath. I Could be happy with my Sweet Girl in the Rocky Mountains of Cornwall, Without her I am a Stranger to Delight, and should be So in a Palace. Give my blessing to my Children and my Love and Service to my Friends and believe to be with the utmost fondness My Dear Jewel

B: John Goodell

Jemmy is a great favourite at Trevalaer where he has a little Boy and 3 female Cousins for ever at his heels. M^{rs} Veale has likewise the little Girl that she brought under her Apron into Norfolk. Jemmy sends his Duty to You & kind Love to his Bro^{rs} & Sisters.

Trengoff 23^d Sept^r 1754.

My Dear Life,

My last was on Wednesday the 18th from Trevalacr, in which I think I acquainted You that M^r Carlyon was with us. The next Day I spent at Newlyn in finishing my Uncle's affairs there, & in packing up, returned to M^r Veale's in the afternoon, and on Friday the 20th set out with M^r Carlyon for S^t Just, about 32 Miles. We travelled to Redruth 18 Miles y^e same road we Came in before and then struck cross y^e County of Cornwall South East, from y^e North to y^e South Sea, and found S^t Just by y^e side of Falmouth Harbour in a Sort of Amphitheatre or Bason Surrounded by very high hills on all Sides but one (where y^e Church Stands) of Small Width. The Church is within 15 Yards of y^e Water, but M^r Carlyon's house about half way up y^e South Side of the Hill, on y^e North Side of which is y^e Sea or Harbour. So on y^e South Side from y^e front of the house Your View is to y^e Land only, and a few Yards above y^e house, the Harbour of Falmouth 7 Miles Wide & 4 broad lies below You.

The house and Gardens are handsome and could not Cost less than 1000[£] and are very pleasant. All Buildings here are wth Slate Stone or Moor Stone, and both agreeable to y^e Eye. Saturday ye 21st after a late Breakfast, We took a boat belonging to a Sloop that lies below M^r Carlyon's Hill to oblige Vessels from Turkey to perform Quarentine (one of which was then under her Care) and with 4 Oars went to Falmouth, a Town built within 60 or 70 Years (about the Size of Beccles) on y^e North West side of y^e Harbour. We walked y^e Town over, and Viewed Pendennis Castle on y^e West Side of y^e Mouth of y^e Harbour, which stands on a very high Hill, and has a Garrison of 40 Soldiers, and returned at three to S^t Just to Dinner, and as this is y^e finest harbour by much on this South West part of y^e Kingdom, and happened then to have two Dutch Men of War in it & many large Shippes which we rowed amongst, we very well Entertained. The next Day (which was Yesterday) We went to Church twice, and after Tea Walked to S^t Maws, a little Corporation built by y^e Side of y^e Sea on y^e East Side of y^e Mouth of y^e Harbour, where we went and Looked about S^t Maws Castle, a Small strong Fortification that guards that Side of y^e Harbour. S^t Maws is a fishing Town like Newlyn, and the houses built nearer to a high Cliff, down which in y^e Night Time People & Cattle are Continually falling.

This Morning We set out with M^r Carlyon from y^e South Side to y^e middle of y^e County and Dined at a Brother's of M^r Carlyon's at S^t Austle's, a Market Town, he is a Brother Attorney, married, and has two Children, and has another Single Brother (a Clergyman) who boards with him.

After Dinner we set forwards and Called upon M^r Carlyon's eldest Brother (a Widower with one Child) who lives in a good house near y^e Sea, Stopped at a Tin work, while Jemmy put on a Miner's Trowsers, Wast Coat & Hat, and went down one of y^e Mines, and got hither by Nine in y^e Evening, where we found M^r Nance in very high Spirits, and to Morrow Morning I shall set out for Launceston (20 Miles bad road) Spend an hour with M^{rs} Bligh & M^{rs} Nance, and press on Eastward as fast as I Can.

I have now Seen a great deal of the North Side of Cornwall and near a third of the South Side, and have Crossed it twice, and think it upon y^e whole a Dismal Country to Live in. They have to boast very justly of a Vast Variety of Sea Fish, and of a moderate Share of Trout and Salmon in their Rivers, but the Inland Dwellings are a Vast Distance from Neighbours, every Where Surrounded with Rocky Mountains, and the Prospects chiefly over barren Lands. The Buildings or Mansion houses indeed near y^e Sea are pleasanter in y^e Summer, but equally Lonesome and I doubt unpleasant in y^e Winter. The Excessive riches however produced from their Fish and their Mines (which require People of Fortune to Support and encourage) induce y^e Cornish Gentlemen to Live upon their Estates, which they stick at no expence to make agreable, and by a friendly hospitable behaviour to each other they Seem to be very happy. They have almost all a good Education, Stand a good deal upon their family, keep good Company, and are in general polite and Sensible. My Dear Angel, I am all Impatience to See You, a Delight that at this Distance (for I am still 350 Miles from my Charmer) is hardly ever out of Mind. For indeed my Dear You have made my heart So unreasonably Yours, that I am Insensible to any Delight, but that of Thinking of my Sweet Girl, of the happiness I have enjoyed in her dear Society, & of the bliss I shall Tast when I have her again in my arms. I have No Words Can Tell with how much Constancy and Affection I am and ever will be My Dearest Jewel, For Ever Yours

My blessing Love and Service to my Children Little Dolly & Neighbours.
Jemmy Joins his Duty Love & Service & M^r Nance & M^r Carlyon
y^r Complim^{ts}.
